

Learning Objective: To be able to proof read a text and correct errors

Read the text below. Circle all of the errors. Use colourful felt tip pens to write the correct spelling, punctuation or verb over the error. Tip: it's easier to spot the errors if you read the text out loud!

Molly woz busy planting seeds in her allotment, when she realised all of her sunflowers were growing really fast. "What's going on " she asked Harry. "i have no idea" replied Harry.

It lookt like they were never going to stop, when all of a sudden they came to a halt. "Are they shrink?" asked Harry. "I think they might b " said Molly.

the sunflowers shrank very quickly and then turned into seeds! "Oh, I think i know what going on!" cried Molly. These must be magic seeds!

The seeds wer glowing. "What do we do?" asked Harry. "i'm not really sure" said Molly. Then a magpie swoop down and gobbled the seeds! After that, the magpie began to grow and shrink, over and ova again!

"We need to help him!" cried Molly. "But how?" asked Harry. Suddenly the bird coughed and the seeds popped out. "Mr Ellis will know what to do with these," said Molly. Carefully she picked them up and wrap them in tissue.

Luckily Mr Ellis was in the next allotment. "Ah, magic seeds eh! I'll have to put them somewhere safe," so he put them in an old metal moneybocks.

"Phew! I'm glad that's sorted," said Molly
